Canadian Human Trafficking Hotline: 1-833-900-1010

Today marks an exhilarating day for the Canadian Centre to End Human Trafficking as they've launched their new Canadian Human Trafficking Hotline 1-833-900-1010. "This multi-lingual hotline is the first-of-its-kind in Canada and is operational 24/7, 365 days a year. The hotline is committed to eradicating this horrific crime and assisting the estimated thousands of victims and survivors in Canada, who are being exploited through forced prostitution or forced labour." Alberta based victim serving units and organizations may utilize this resource for multiple purposes: Provide the hotline number to victims as a resource of support or referrals; contact the hotline directly for information, data, tools or tips for your unit/organization; develop a professional partnership with the hotline to enhance the national response to combat human trafficking.

The hotline provides the following services:

- crisis response to people being trafficked
- referrals to social service providers and law enforcement (as requested)
- tip receipt and reporting
- general information provision
- tools and resources to build community responses to trafficking
